

Call for submissions for the Prix Versailles 2018

Entries can be submitted online between now and 11:59 pm CET on 31 January 2018 via www.prix-versailles.com.

Yours sincerely,

Jérôme Gouadain

2018 EDITION

Regulations for submissions

In conformity with the regulations set out below, submissions will be received by the Secretariat of the Prix Versailles until 31 January 2018 at midnight Paris (France) time.

They are limited to openings and re-openings, in the event that the work necessitated the complete or partial closure to the public, that have taken place between 1 February 2017 and 31 January 2018, inclusive, of shops & stores, shopping malls, hotels and restaurants with a minimum built surface area of 100 m² accessible to the clientele.

Additional calls for submissions for certain types of projects with specific characteristics may be issued during the course of the process. They will be communicated to the applicants in due time.

ARTICLE 1 - Purpose

The Prix Versailles 2018 (hereafter referred to as "the Prix") comprises a series of awards for the most remarkable commercial structures, from the point of view of both the interior and exterior architecture.

There are four categories within the Prix: Shops & Stores, Shopping Malls, Hotels and Restaurants (hereafter referred to as "the Categories").

Special prizes for 'Interior' and 'Exterior' architecture are attached to each of the Categories.

These awards are manifested in the form of a certificate and a trophy awarded to each winner.

ARTICLE 2 - Qualification of candidates

Any shop/store, shopping mall, hotel or restaurant with a minimum built surface area of 100 m² accessible to the clientele that has opened or has re-opened (provided the work involved the complete or partial closure to the public) between midnight 30 January 2017 and midnight 31 January 2018, the times referring to the time in Paris (France), may be the subject of a submission at the initiative of the general contractor and/or the project owner.

ARTICLE 3 – Procedure

There are four steps in the selection process.

STEP 1 – SUBMISSION OF ENTRIES

Entries can be freely filed, in French or in English, via the online form provided for that purpose (and available at www.prix-versailles.com), between now and 11:59 pm CET on 31 January 2018. Entries must include the following in particular:

- a presentation of the applicant;
- a presentation of the project being submitted (with information about the relevant Category, the physical address, the floor space in m² open to clientele, and the date of its opening or reopening to the public);
- the plan or plans that correspond to the space that is the subject of the submission;
- five to ten actual photographs.

At this stage, the total combined size of all the submitted files may not exceed 10 MB per submission (including any plans and photographs). Otherwise, the submission will automatically be rejected.

For submissions receiving a prix or a special prize (STEP 2), five to ten actual photographs, of the highest resolution and freely usable in communications relating to the Prix, will be provided to the Secretariat of the Prix (hereinafter referred to as “the Secretariat”) at its request.

If an applicant submits more than one project, each one will require a separate entry.

STEP 2 - CONTINENTAL SELECTIONS

Six judges panels (hereinafter referred to as “the Continental Judges Panels”) will examine the submissions and issue consultative decisions, depending on the projects’ locations, divided between six regions:

Africa and West Asia – Central America, the South and the Caribbean – North America – Central Asia and the Northeast – South Asia and the Pacific – Europe (hereinafter “the Regions”).

The geographic area covered by each of the Continental Judges Panels is set out in the list of States provided in the Annexe.

Of the applications that the Secretariat declares to be receivable, each member of the Continental Judges Panels is to allocate in each Category:

- one, then two, then three points respectively to the structures that they judge to be the third, second and most remarkable, with the interior and exterior architecture being considered as a whole;
- one, then two, then three points respectively to the structures that they judge to be the third, second and most remarkable, relating to the interior architecture;
- one, then two, then three points respectively to the structures that they judge to be the third, second and most remarkable, relating to the exterior architecture.

The Continental Judges Panels will give special attention to projects that have taken a sustainable approach from an ecological, social, and cultural or aesthetic perspective.

The structures must also have an exemplary value to them, from which other interested parties may take inspiration.

For each Category in each Region, a prix and special prizes for Interiors and Exteriors will be awarded to the projects receiving the most points, subject to the final decisions made by the Secretary General of the Prix Versailles.

These choices do not have to be explained.

STEP 3 – WORLD SELECTIONS

The world judges panel (hereinafter “the World Judges Panel”) will examine the entries for the global selection process.

Only projects that received a continental prix or special prize in 2018 will be eligible respectively for the world prix and special prizes.

The 2018 World Judges Panel is made up of a maximum of nine members, chaired by François de Mazières, Mayor of Versailles, France.

For each Category, each member of the World Judges Panel will assign one, then two, then three points respectively to the winning continental submissions that they find to be the third, second and first most remarkable.

Voting by the general public may also be counted, at the Secretariat’s initiative. In that case, the public’s votes will be equivalent to four additional World Judges Panel members.

For each of the Categories, the prix and the ‘Interior’ and ‘Exterior’ special prizes are to be allocated to the structures that have attracted the maximum number of points.

In the event that the scores are equal for the awarding of a prix or a special prize, the World Judges Panel Chairman’s vote shall count twice over for the prix or for the special prize under consideration. The decisions do not have to be explained.

STEP 4 – AWARD OF PRIX AND SPECIAL PRIZES

The world prix and special prizes will be awarded to the winners during a ceremony to be held on 15 May 2018 at UNESCO Headquarters in Paris, France.

ARTICLE 4 – Interpretation and appeals

The interpretation of these rules is the sole responsibility of the Secretariat. All award decisions are final and may not be appealed.
